

Dear Fabulous Fadden Families

This week has been a particularly harmonious week. We celebrated and recognised Harmony Week through classroom activities and by wearing orange on Wednesday. Below are some pictures of what has been happening.

This term ACT Orienteering has been visiting our senior PE classes as part of the Sporting Schools program. Yesterday the 4-week program culminated in all of Year 3-6 taking part in orienteering at Fadden Pines. The students had a great experience and if families don't already know, the permanent orienteering course at Fadden Pines is a great facility for our families to use at any time. Check out this link for other permanent orienteering courses around Canberra.

As part of their integrated unit in year 5/6 students have been investigating sustainable homes. In 5/6M they had their third visit from Paula from Academy of Future Skills - Mungga-iri Jingga today and had a chance to use STELR home kits to look at windows and their impacts on house efficiency. These investigations are to help with the planning and design of their own energy efficient homes. They investigated double glazed vs. single glazed, best types of window coverings (sheer vs. blackout curtains), window orientation and 3 types of glass materials (clear, low efficiency and tinted).

These conferences are an authentic opportunity for students to be leaders of their learning, and therefore we don't expect perfection, as this is your child's first attempt at participating in this type of conference. We ask that families be supportive and positive to support our growing leaders of tomorrow. Parents will have the opportunity to provide the school with feedback on the conferences through a form they will receive at the conference. We will use this feedback to plan for future opportunities for parent engagement in student learning later in the year.

This week information was put out to the public about hazardous materials in schools (lead paint and asbestos). Fadden Primary School does have both in our boiler room, a space that no students have access to at any time. If parents are concerned and would like to see the assessment reports and information, we have on hazardous materials, they are welcome to request to view the folder of reports in the office.

Have a great weekend everyone!
